"HER-
CU-
LEX"

for

Nerve
Weakness

"HER-CU-LEX" is the latest invention of Dr. Sanden, the pioneer of Self-Treatment with Electricity. Popular throughout the world as a natural, common sense remedy for Nerve and Brain Exhaustion, Indigestion, Constipation, Pain in the Back, Rheumatism, Declining Vigor, Urinary Weakness, Sluggish Organs, Impotency, etc.

Not "a cure-all" but an ideal cure for all disorders or weakness resulting from overwork or excess of any nature. It is simple, harmless, convenient; has a perfectly constructed battery enclosed in comfortable cloth case. Worn about the waist nights, or during the evening, the mild, soothing currents invigorate the nerve and vital centres, awaken dormant nerves, strengthen relaxed muscles and induce natural secretion of the vital fluids. This improves digestion, enriches quality of the blood and accelerates its circulation, and has a direct beneficial influence upon the bowels, regulating their action in a natural way. Used during a period of rest, it conforms with the processes of Nature in every way.

Dr. Sanden's method of self-treatment, WITHOUT DRUGS, is the only self-treatment consistent with natural law and appeals to reason and common sense as filling a long felt want among those who are neither sick nor well, who are "all run down," and just dragging along in a half hearted manner; also, to those who have concluded that drugs cannot cure them. With ordinary care, "HER-CU-LEX" will last for one year, is not bulky, makes no noise and is as comfortable as your clothing. If you are weak or otherwise ailing, send for Dr. Sanden's latest book, "Health in Nature," free upon request, securely sealed.

Every weak man should read it. It will prove interesting to you, as it has to others who had despaired of recovery by other means. Send at once and write name plainly. Address, mentioning this paper.

THE SUICIDE OF AN N. Y. K. CAPTAIN.

From a passenger by the Kawachi Maru the Malay Mail has ascertained certain facts connected with the death of the late Captain Thompson which will prove of melancholy interest to many of his friends here. Our contemporary says that it appears that from the moment of leaving England the deceased was troubled in his mind with regard to the safety of his ship, fancying that a number of barrels of acid, which were firmly lashed and wedged in the scuppers of the lower deck, would become unfastened in the rough weather, causing great damage. The Kawachi Maru experienced a big gale and high seas in the Mediterranean, and this was the cause of the late Captain's temporary insanity. Both the first and second officers had great difficulty in preventing him from altering the course, and on several occasions the ship made complete circles in the height of the gale, and it was lucky that the passengers were kept in complete ignorance, otherwise undoubtedly there would have been a panic. The Kawachi Maru was kept eleven hours in the Canal by a steamer which had gone aground, and this also preyed on the captain's mind. Finally, on Easter Sunday, he disappeared, being last seen by the first officer, not by Mr. James as stated in the Ceylon papers, at four o'clock in the morning. The ship was turned back at 7.20 but no trace was found. Great credit is due to the first and second officers, and the chief engineer, for the admirable way in which they looked after the welfare of the passengers from the moment of leaving the Albert Docks until the arrival of the ship at Colombo, and a signed testimonial to that effect was presented to the former before reaching Singapore.

SINGAPORE AND PLAGUE.

It is a standing subject for wonder and for frequent newspaper comment, how Singapore, placed as it were in a central position with regard to plague-stricken and otherwise infected countries, should enjoy what is practically a total immunity from epidemics. The settlement is by no means free from disease; sporadic cases of small-pox and cholera are continually occurring, and there have been a few cases of the same bubonic plague which has considerably depopulated Hongkong and Bombay, and is now rife in Calcutta. The reason why Singapore escapes the terrible experiences of other places is due to the effectual measures adopted by the Municipal Health Officer and his staff who, fortunately for the community, are given a free hand in adopting what measures they think proper for conserving the health of the town. An illustration of the methods pursued by them may be of interest not only to our local readers, but also those in distant lands, says the Strait Times. On the 1st ult. the body of a Chinese girl, a victim of bubonic plague, was discovered on the third floor of a large house in Hongkong Street. The place was used as a store. During the following two days, wayfarers and residents were surprised to observe huge fires burning in the street. Inquiries elicited the explanation that everything in that store which was likely to have plague germs in, on, or about it, was being destroyed by fire. In addition to this the ceiling of the upper floor was burnt and the house partly roofed to admit light and air. The ground floor (earth) was dug up a foot and submitted to the fiery ordeal. The plaster on the walls was knocked off and similarly dealt with. Finally the house was washed down from garret to cellar with disinfectants. It may here be pertinently asked if the public ever bestow a thought on the risk run by the men who carry out these operations, and assuming that the risk is recognized, how far the public are disposed to remunerate the men who practically daily risk their own lives to preserve the public from the risks of contagion. For the carrying out of the dangerous work alluded to, the Sanitary Inspector of the district received the sum of $2 and the Chief Inspector one dollar, as disinfecting pay. Comment is needless, but it may be added that it is surprising that men can be got to do the work on such terms. It may be argued that such drastic measures are not necessary. Those who argue so obviously know nothing about the spread of bubonic plague. Many ascribe it entirely to rats, forgetting that fleas are parasites common to rats and men, and may be found in abundance where there are unwashed cats and dogs. At any rate it is clear that these drastic measures have so far operated to the advantage of the community in general, and of the shipping and trading sections in particular. Such through-going action must necessarily cost a trifle in the way of compensating those whose property has to be destroyed, but as this cost is incurred for the benefit of the public it should be, and, no doubt, is cheerfully borne.

THE WORD OF HONOUR.

The men who do as they say; the things that prove to be what they were said to be—how cheering it is to come upon them. We all hate to be deceived; especially, when the deception is intentional. But all men are not liars, even if David did say so in his haste. If they were society would be impossible. Everybody knows that business is based on credit, on faith. Millions are bought and sold daily on nothing more solid than the pledged promises of men, not written, merely verbal. The Stock Exchanges are often called nests of gamblers, yet nowhere is a promise held in greater honour. Therefore when we say that the tried and effective remedy called never deceives any who resort to it in hope of benefit and cure, we may expect to be believed.

For this assurance is given on what it has done in the past in countless cases—on its record. It is only recommended to accomplish what it was made to accomplish. Its action in Chlorosis, Anemia, Scrofula, General Debility, Throat and Lung Troubles, Blood Impurities, etc. is convincing. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. Dr. Austin D. Irvine, of Canada, says: "I have used it in cases where cod liver oil was indicated but could not be taken by the patient, and the results following were very gratifying." It is effective from the first dose and agrees with the most sensitive and nervous stomachs. One bottle proves its intrinsic value. It cannot deceive or disappoint you, and comes to the rescue of those who have received no benefit from any other treatment. It stands for the medical triumphs of the age. "Watch carefully against imitations." Sold by chemists here and everywhere and A. S. Watson & Co., Limited.

HONGKONG, SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1903.

HONGKONG AND THE PLAGUE.

A most important contribution to the literature of plague is Dr. Simpson's "report on the causes and continuance of plague in Hongkong, and suggestions as to remedial measures," which contains the result of his six months' investigation of the disease in the Colony. His conclusions have resulted in a sheaf of valuable facts and recommendations, which were published in London and forwarded to the office of the Colonial Secretary in Hongkong from whom we have received a copy. The volume consists of 125 foolscap folio pages with many diagrams and a large coloured map of South China showing the provinces of Yunnan, Kwangsi, Kwangtung and Fukien, with the rivers and trade routes and the localities infected with plague. The work is loaded with matter of great local interest, and it is next to impossible to summarise it satisfactorily, or do much more than state some of his conclusions. Dr. Simpson arrived in the Colony on January 5th, 1902, with instructions to "investigate and report upon the causes and continuance of bubonic plague, and to advise remedial measures." But as the scope of his commission was somewhat wide in its terms, and the time at his disposal limited, he states that he confined his investigations to the more obvious practical points and undertook three lines of research, to ascertain (1) the extent of the prevalence of plague in Southern China, a country with which Hongkong has large commercial relations; (2) the behaviour of plague in Hongkong, the conditions which favour its spread and continuance there, and whether, as in Cape Colony, rat plague is intimately connected with, and precedes as a rule, human plague; and (3) whether other animals besides rats are affected with plague, and if so the mode by which they become infected. It is impossible not to be considerably impressed with the interesting and important points embodied in these researches. They are broad, but well defined, and Dr. Simpson has gone a long way in sifting to the bottom and giving an intelligent history of plague in the Orient, and some very practical ideas regarding its prevention. As to the first line of research, he observes that the origin of many diseases are attributed to China, and although the plague of the 14th century, subsequently known as the Black Death, which ravaged Europe, is said to have emanated from Northern China, he submits that the evidence on the point is not at all satisfactory. But so far as the existing pandemic of plague is concerned he is assured that it spread from Southern China, where it has prevailed in an endemic form for sixty years or more, but it was not until the disease reached the Delta of the West River, and devastated Canton and then visited Hongkong that it excited any interest. Dr. Simpson draws attention to the fact that Hongkong being an entrepôt for goods, with very intimate connection with Canton, and with warehouses full of the produce to be taken into the various provinces in exchange for native produce, the epidemic diseases of the Colony synchronize to a very great extent with those prevailing in the chief centres and villages of Southern China. It is clear, he says, that plague in Hongkong was derived from Canton or its environs, where nothing is done to mitigate the effects of any infectious disease. Consequently, it is not surprising to find that the Hongkong epidemics are much less severe than those of Canton, and do not at any time approach in proportion the mortality of that city. The deaths from the disease in this Colony since 1894 to the end of 1902 number 9,819, and if we add the cases to date this year we get a grand total of 10,426. Dr. Simpson then alludes to the seasonal prevalence of plague in the Colony, and states that in Hongkong it possesses distinct seasons for its prevalence. In the autumn or winter months it is lowest or even absent, and in the summer months, especially in May and June, it reaches its maximum. Explanation of the seasonal prevalence of plague must, he says, at the present stage of our knowledge, be purely theoretical. Turning to the question of infection, he reiterates the oft-told tale that it adheres to old, dark damp, and rat-ridden houses, while, in his opinion, another cause favouring the endemicity of the disease is the insufficient latrine accommodation and the insanitary condition of many of the existing latrines. After quoting facts bearing on the relation of rat plague to human plague, the writer observes, "the dissemination of plague by the infected rat, it appears, as marked in Hongkong as it was in Cape Town, in South Africa, and the occurrence of rat plague on board ship antecedent to human plague is an additional link in the chain of evidence of the important rôle which rat plague plays in the spread of human plague." Dealing with the disease in animals other than rats, Dr. Simpson points out that general observations in China have led to the belief that pigs, oxen, buffaloes, and chickens die of plague, but further experiments are required to settle the question. The report gives in detail the result of experiments demonstrating that pigs, calves, sheep, monkeys, hens, pigeons, turkeys, geese, and ducks are more or less susceptible to plague of a fatal nature, and shows that a man with plague can infect the domestic animals, and they in turn can affect one another. As is generally admitted, the rat is apparently the most important agent in disseminating the disease, but Dr. Simpson submits that it also requires to be further investigated in order that its causes, of spread, and method of prevention may be ascertained. The great question, however, which seems to have not been touched by the authorities not only in Hongkong, but in other parts of the world where plague is endemic—is what to do? Dr. Simpson deals at length with remedial measures, and in a concluding summary says they depend on what is known of plague, modified by the local conditions. Those regarding the external causes, he observes, consist in controlling as far as possible the avenues by which infection is introduced into the Colony. "For this control, it is necessary for the Government to be regularly informed as to where plague exists, but even with this information it has to be recognised that, with the southern coast of China in the condition described, Hongkong is continually subjected to the risk of re-infection and that no amount of precaution, which is within the bounds of practicability can do more than lessen that risk so long as China takes no action." In regard to internal causes, he points out that "the remedies lie in the creation of a special plague organization to combat plague, and the centralization of all sanitary matters into a Public Health Department, with a trained medical man skilled in sanitary matters, as its administrative Chief, who shall be ex-officio president of the Sanitary Board, and who shall be responsible to the Government for the efficient administration of the department." By these measures, he concludes, an effective control will be obtained over the outbreaks of plague and it will be possible to deal gradually but effectively and on a commensurate scale with the numerous problems connected with the housing question and the general insanitary condition of Hongkong which serve to perpetuate the continuance of plague in the Colony.

STEAM WATER BOAT CO.

A NEW BOAT.

Messrs. W. S. Bailey & Co. have just completed their second steam water boat for this company, and yesterday handed over the new craft which is capable of carrying 200 tons of fresh water. She is 105 feet long by 20 feet beam, and on her trial trip she maintained a speed of seven and a half knots. The craft is of tank, with brass fastenings throughout and strong steel bulkheads fitted with the usual sluices. There is a powerful duplex pump on deck having a double-headed discharge so that two discharge hoses may be used simultaneously. This latest addition to the little fleet of the Hongkong Steam Water Boat Company makes their fourth vessel employed in the water traffic.

THE GENERATION OF INTENSE HEAT.

INTERESTING DEMONSTRATION AT KOWLOON.

A practical demonstration of Dr. Goldschmidt's thermite process (for the generation of intense heat by the combustion of aluminium) was given by Mr. E. Johannsen at Messrs. Bailey & Co.'s shipbuilding yard this afternoon, and notwithstanding the threatening weather there was a good attendance of spectators including members of the Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders of Hongkong. It is well known that aluminium and oxygen possess a very strong affinity for each other, and on this fact is based the process for generating intense heat. On bringing them under certain conditions together a chemical reaction is started of so vigorous and energetic a nature that a temperature, hitherto obtained only by electrical means, is generated with almost instantaneous rapidity. Thermite gives off about 5,400 degs. Fahrenheit in iron of a very high temperature, resulting iron being exceedingly pure, and with a tenacity, equal to very mild steel, so it is obvious that Thermite is most valuable for a number of purposes to every foundryman and engineer. By its aid faulty castings can be made faultless; bosses can be cast on steel or even wrought iron; and broken shafts and wheels repaired. The thermite iron has the property of melting the cold surface of metal it touches, and meeting with it to form one solid mass. Indeed, the uses to which it can be applied are numerous, as was proved this afternoon at Kowloon when some marvellous results were attained.

THE CHARTERED BANK OF INDIA, AUSTRALIA AND CHINA.

The forty-ninth ordinary general meeting of the shareholders of the above bank took place on Wednesday, April 15th, at the Cannon Street Hotel, London, E.C., Mr. J. Howard Gwyther in the chair.

Mr. Caleb Lewis (manager) read the notice convening the meeting.

The Chairman said: Before proposing the first resolution I will, as usual, make a few remarks. Thanks to the recent alteration in our articles of association, which has done away with the necessity for half-yearly gatherings it is now twelve months since we had the pleasure of meeting the shareholders. I wonder that other banks do not follow in our wake, and so obviate the need for semi-annual balance-sheets and speeches from chairman. We are again able to present a satisfactory statement, but I must warn you that the competition in the Far East, to which I specially referred last year, is becoming more and more aggressive. The operation of the foreign banks at Hongkong and Shanghai are mainly confined to financing the external trade of those ports, and I may safely aver that the supply is greatly in excess of the legitimate demand. This unfortunate redundancy creates, in the absence of bonafide business, an unwise tendency to exchange speculations between banks—a very unwholesome procedure, which will ultimately recoil on the heads of those concerned. What will be the eventual outcome no one can foresee, but in the meantime we are confronted with the probability of dwindling profits and no possibility of lessening expenses. The cream of our foreign staff must be conserved, and to do this effectively we must pay them on such a scale as will prevent them from listening to the blandishments of our newer rivals. I have no special points in connection with trade to dwell upon. Our extended sphere of operations requires vigilant watching of the markets and the politics of the world. Commercial rivalry is very rampant, but, provided we think we see safety, we are at the disposal of all comers, whatever be their nationality. To provide for the growing requirements of our American customers we have established an agency at New York, which we trust will become remunerative at no distant date. Our chief anxiety at the present juncture is not that which ordinarily attaches to our business. We are confronted with economic changes, actual and probable, of a far-reaching character, and I cannot help feeling that the authors thereof have not solved their problems in a scientific manner. I am not going to weary you with an essay upon political economy, but in a matter which may have potential effects upon trade and banking in the East I think it well to dwell upon some of the methods proposed. You are well aware that after the Franco-German war an attempt was made to establish international bi-metallicism, whereby trade between gold and silver using countries could be continued upon a stable basis, such as had previously existed whilst the Latin Union maintained a fixed ratio. You know that the scheme failed through the refusal of England to agree to the proposal, and that thereupon India closed her mints to the free coinage of silver, with a consequent accelerated shrinkage in the gold value of the white metal. Those who dwell in the Far East have ever since cast wistful eyes upon the stability of Indian exchange, and are exclaiming: "Now that the civilised world has abandoned silver as a standard, why cannot we create a gold basis, and thus be able to conduct our business upon safer lines than at present exist?" Siam and the Philippine Islands have already taken steps to bring about the change. The Straits Settlements and Cochin China are debating the question, and even Mexico and China are wishful to follow suit. In all these contemplated changes it is intended that the State shall from time to time coin a sufficient quantity of dollars to provide for the internal requirements of the community, and that these shall be full legal tender to an unlimited extent. It would, of course, be expected that the new coinage would start upon a ratio approximate to the existing price of silver, and would naturally be exchanged for the current circulation, piece for piece, thus preserving unimpaired the existing equities between creditor and debtor, and lessening as much as possible the friction necessarily caused by the change. Unfortunately the United States Congress has adopted in the Philippines a different procedure. A coin has been legalised the value of which, although intrinsically the same as the existing currency, is by a stroke of the pen to be increased 20 per cent. I fear great confusion and embarrassment will result therefrom, and that the whole community will suffer from this ill-considered policy. But, on the other hand, I believe that the Americans are fully alive to the fact that the change of standard necessitates a gold reserve, so that all comers can not only exchange silver for gold, but also gold for silver. This safeguard is especially necessary when the balance of trade is adverse, as an attempt to pay such balance by the export of silver coins at present overvalued to an appreciable extent, and probably to a still greater degree in the future, would militate largely against the well-being of the country. Those who advocate a gold standard for China cannot have the most elementary knowledge of her economic condition. The annual adverse balance of trade is at least $10,000,000, and even assuming that she could import gold to an important extent by means of a large foreign loan—at present impossible—that gold, if the standard was a reality and not a fiction, would assuredly leave the country. I do not think that the bank, qua such, is called upon to express an opinion upon the policy of a State in respect to its standard, but I maintain that we are fully justified in criticising the manner of the change, seeing that our interests may be adversely affected should crude and unjust method be employed. When a Government determines to abolish free coinage of silver there are five points to be borne in mind:—(1) Any loss occasioned by the change must be borne by the State. (2) The necessity for the maintenance of a sufficient gold reserve to meet all probable demands. (3) The possibility of the native becoming alive to the fictitious value of the silver as measured in gold, and demanding the latter in exchange for the former. (4) The incitement to private manufacture, seeing the great profit accruing therefrom. The article would be genuine and only the effigy fraudulent. (5) The temptation for impetuous States to profit by the coinage of silver beyond the requirements of the community. In the Middle Ages princes frequently debased the currency by the introduction of excessive alloy. Now the metal would be correct, but the policy vicious. With the probable and possible increasing restriction of free coinage the outlook for silver is very unpromising. It is difficult to judge the level to which the price must fall before there is a marked decrease in production, seeing that the metal is so largely a by-product to gold, copper and lead.

Before sitting down I must advert to the great loss we have sustained since we last met. Mr. Main left us unexpectedly last May, only three years after the death of Mr. Forrest. His whole energy was devoted to our service; he was a sound banker and a firm believer in the conservative traditions of the bank. The directors, the staff and the customers all equally deplore his absence. The board have appointed Mr. T. H. Whitehead, formerly our manager at Hongkong, as coadjutor to Mr. Caleb Lewis, and that gentleman's past career fully justifies our belief that he will follow in the footsteps of his predecessors. I have now to propose—"That the directors' report, balance sheet and profit and loss account be approved and adopted." (Applause.)

Mr. Emile Levita seconded the motion, which was unanimously agreed to, without discussion.

The Chairman then proposed: "That a dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum, free of income tax, for the half-year ended December 31st, 1902, be now declared, payable on and after the 22nd inst."

Sir Henry S. Cunningham, K.C.I.E., seconded the resolution, which was also agreed to.

The Chairman next moved the re-election of Sir Edward F. Alford as a director.

Sir Alfred Deni, K.C.M.G., seconded the motion, which was put and carried.

Mr. Levita proposed the re-election of the chairman, Mr. J. Howard Gwyther, as a director of the bank.

Sir Henry S. Cunningham, K.C.I.E., seconded the resolution, which was agreed to.

Sir William Robinson, G.C.M.G., next moved the re-appointment of the auditors, Mr. Maurice Nelson Girdlestone and Mr. Magnus Mowat.

Mr. Benjamin Smyth seconded the motion, which was put and carried.

Sir William Robinson also proposed: "That the best thanks of the shareholders be given to the directors and staff for their successful management of the bank." (Applause.)

Mr. Benjamin Smyth seconded the resolution, which on being put to the meeting was very cordially received.

The Chairman having briefly acknowledged the compliment, the proceedings terminated.

S.S. "PEMBROKESHIRE" ASHORE.

STEM BADLY DAMAGED.

News has been received in the Colony to the effect that the Shire line steamship Pembroke-shire has gone ashore on the Suddles at the mouth of the Yangtze and sustained bad damage to her stem. The vessel was on a run from Shanghai to New York, via the Suez Canal, and was due to leave hence on Monday, so that it is evident she met with the mishap either on Tuesday or Wednesday last. She is quite a new ship having been built at Sunderland in 1901 for her owners, Messrs. Jenkins & Co., of London. Her registered tonnage is 4,664, and Messrs. Shewan, Tomes & Co. are the local agents.

THE PLAGUE.

During the twenty-four hours ended at noon to-day 22 further cases of bubonic plague, making 556 since January 1st, were reported. Thirteen of the cases were fatal. An European case was reported from 26, Bridges Street.

Debate on the Navy Estimates.

In a debate on the Navy estimates Sir Charles Dilke urged that the Anglo-French friendship should be utilized to obtain an agreement between France, Russia and Great Britain with a view to the reduction of naval armaments. Mr. Arnold Forster said the Admiralty must deal with facts as they are and not as they might be; that all the Powers were increasingly active and notably the one from which the suggestion of a reduction originally emanated. The Admiralty was only fulfilling a plain duty in preparing to meet any emergency.

REPORT OF THE ACTING REGISTRAR GENERAL.

FOR THE YEAR 1902.

The Acting Registrar General, Mr. C. McI. Messer, has issued his report on the work of his department for the year 1902. We make the following extracts—

REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.

The revenue collected during the year amounted to $36,888.13, as against $127,566.16 collected in 1901, being an increase of $9,311.97. Two fresh items of revenue were added during this year, namely, emigration house licences and licences to Chinese postmen and postal hongs. Very nearly all items of revenue show substantial increases, the chief of which are the revenue from markets, an increase of $2,616.48; hawkers, an increase of $1,476.70; boat licences, an increase of $897.97; and fees in connection with the Marriage Ordinances which show an increase of $776.00.

The number of street hawkers is gradually increasing. The number of hawkers' licences issued during the year was 13,864, but many of these hawkers only did business for a short time. From the 1st of October until the 31st of December 7,773 different hawkers paid fees.

The expenditure during the year was $24,230.33 compared with $16,429.61 in 1901. The increase is caused by the permanent appointment of Mr. Clement as Assistant Registrar General, the appointment of a translator, the cost of training Student Interpreters, and the appointment of an emigration clerk, which was rendered necessary by the fact that under the Chinese Emigration Ordinance, No. 37 of 1901, female and male emigrants under 16 years of age have to be examined by an officer of the Registrar General's Department. The licensing of boarding houses for Chinese emigrants is also placed by the same Ordinance within the duties of the Registrar General.

WOMEN AND GIRLS PROTECTION ORDINANCE.

The subscriptions for the year 1902 amounted to $7,382.25 as compared with $6,823.50 in 1901, and the total revenue, to $8,331.25 compared to $7,873.50 in 1901. The expenditure was $7,563.98. There were 78 inmates on the first of January, 1902, and 66 on the 31st of December, 1902. During the last year there were 617 persons admitted, of which 261 were restored to parents or relatives or were sent to some benevolent society in China, 17 sent to missionary schools, to sent to convicts, 19 married, 10 adopted, and 2 died. In the case of the remaining 310 investigations showed that no action was desirable. The work done by this benevolent society during the year 1902 shows a very large increase over the work done in former years. The working committee of the P. Leung Kuk have shown themselves at all times most willing in investigating the cases brought under their notice. During the year there were 26 cases in which 36 persons were charged under the Women and Girls Protection Ordinances and there were 101 cases of closing of lodging-houses for prostitutes under Ordinance 31 of 1899.

EMIGRATION.

From January 1st till the end of May, 4,873 females and boys were examined at the Harbour Office, an officer from the Registrar General's Office being present on each occasion. From the 1st of June till the end of December, the examination took place at the Registrar General's Office; and during this period 5,439 female and boy emigrants were examined, making the total for the whole year of 10,312 compared with 9,312 in 1901.

Emigration during the months of June and July was at a low ebb, owing to the provisions of Ordinance 37 of 1901 whereby boarding-houses for emigrants had to be licensed, and emigrants had to lodge 48 hours in a licensed boarding-house previous to being examined by the Emigration Officer or Registrar General. After Chinese had become accustomed to the working of the new law, emigration proceeded at the usual rate, but during the two above mentioned months emigrants to the Straits Settlements avoided passing through Hongkong as much as possible. One hundred and thirty-nine emigrants were detained for enquiries, and the usual arrangements were made for restoring to their relatives and friends, those who were found to have been persuaded to emigrate under false pretences.

Boarding-houses for Chinese emigrants are divided into hotels for males and females, an annual licence fee of $50 being charged for these, and emigration houses for males only, the licence fee for which is $10. During the year 1902, thirty-three hotels and seven emigration houses were registered.

Under the bye-laws for the licensing, regulation and sanitary maintenance of boarding-houses for Chinese emigrants made under section 4 of Ordinance No. 37 of 1901, licences are only issued to persons whose characters are not satisfactory, and the Registrar General has power under those bye-laws to withdraw at any time a licence for a boarding-house, if in his opinion the keeper of such boarding-house has ceased to be a fit and proper person to keep such boarding-house.

CHINESE POSTAL HONGS.

Under Gazette notice 273 of 1902 made under section 9 of Ordinance No. 24 of 1902, licences for Chinese postal hongs are issued by the Registrar General. A fee of $5 is charged for licensing each postal hong. The letter-carriers of these hongs are required to have a distinguishing badge worn on the right arm when actually engaged in the delivery of Chinese hong correspondence. This hong correspondence has also to pay postage. During the year 44 postal hongs were registered with 162 letter-carriers.

CERTIFICATES OF IDENTITY TO CHINESE ENTERING THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, &c.

The revenue derived from this source was $2,275 compared with $1,750 in 1901. The number of certificates issued during the year was—

To the United States 22
To the Hawaiian Islands 4
To the Philippines 41
TOTAL 67

POPULATIONS.

The following is an estimate of the population of the Colony, exclusive of the New Territory, on the 30th June, 1903:—

British and Foreign Chinese. Total
Community 293,300 311,824

The population of the New Territory, according to the census taken by the Police in 1901, was 102,254.

MARRIAGES.

The number of marriages solemnized during the year was 129 as compared with 140 in 1901. The scale of fees has been amended by Ordinance No. 13 of 1902.

BIRTHS.

The births registered during the year were as follows:—

Males. Females. Total.
Chinese 633 333 966
Non-Chinese 123 111 234
756 444 1,200

This is equal to a general birth-rate of 3.8 per 1,000 as compared with 3.6 in 1901, and 3.4 in 1899. The birth-rate among the non-Chinese community alone was 12.6 per 1,000 as compared with 11.9 per 1,000 in 1901. The nationalities of the non-Chinese parents were as follows:—British 98, Portuguese 70, Indian 27, German 16, Malay 16, French 3, Japanese 2, and Spanish and Norwegian one each. The preponderance of male births over female births is still very marked among the Chinese community, being in the proportion of 190 male births to every 100 female births. The proportion among the non-Chinese community was 111 to 100 as compared with 107 to 100 in the previous year.

The number of the Chinese births registered does not give an accurate record of the total number of births of Chinese that have occurred in the Colony, for many of the infants that die during the first month or so of life remain unregistered, although their deaths must be registered to obtain the necessary burial orders. It has been customary, therefore, to add to the registered births the number of infants of one month old and under that die in the various Convents, or are found by the Police in the streets or in the harbour. The number during 1902 was 239 males and 364 females, making a total of 603; and the addition of these figures to the registered Chinese births gives a total of 1,459 as compared with 1,410 during the previous year. The corrected birth-rate is, therefore, 6.1 per 1,000, while among the Chinese alone the rate becomes 5.3 per 1,000. The total Chinese births as calculated in the above manner show a proportion of only 125 male births to every 100 female births, while the dead bodies of infants found in the streets or left at the doors of the Convents show 65 males to every 100 females, the explanation being that the Chinese have very little regard for the value of the lives of female children.

During the year 1902 there were 27 prosecutions under the Registration of Births and Deaths Ordinance, in which 31 persons were prosecuted. There were 4 cases for failing to report birth, 22 for unlawful removal of dead bodies, and one case of failing to report death.

The number of deaths in the British and Foreign Community was 352, as compared with 412 in 1901. Of this, 26 died from plague. The number of deaths among the Chinese was 6,431 as compared with 6,670 in 1901. Of this, 546 died from plague.

Six hundred and ninety-five certificates were issued by the Police for the removal of dead bodies from the Colony, as compared with 469 in 1901.

EXHUMATION.

Eighty-nine permits were issued to exhume human remains for removal to China or for burial in the Colony.

REGISTRATION OF BOOKS.
Thirty-six books were registered during the year, as compared with 44 in 1901.

VACCINATION ORDINANCE.
The total number of vaccinations recorded during the year was 6,475 as compared with 5,937 in 1901. There were nine prosecutions under this Ordinance during the year. There were 47 cases of small-pox and 41 deaths during the year.

DISTRICT WATCHMEN.
The contributions to the fund for the year were $17,461.69 as compared with $12,647.96 in 1901, being an increase of $4,813.73. This is chiefly due to raising the rate of contribution from the shops from 1 per cent. on the assessment to 2 per cent. on the assessment. On the last two quarters of the year the contributions were paid at the increased rate, the contribution for the first two quarters being paid at the old rate of 1 per cent. The expenditure in 1901 was $12,760.24 and a sum to the amount of $12,695.54 was paid towards the erection of the new district watchmen's house at Tai Ping Shan. The expenditure in 1901 was $12,697.44. A loan of $5,000 repayable in five years' time was obtained from the Government, for the purpose of providing the necessary funds for building the new district watchmen's house at Tai Ping Shan, and the Government also gave a grant of $5,000 for the same purpose. The balance at the end of the year was $7,819.93, which must be considered as most satisfactory, and it will be possible to repay immediately the government loan of $5,000.

The new district watchmen's house situated at Tai Ping Shan was completed during the year, and the watchmen belonging to the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th districts took up their quarters there on August 1st. There are quarters on the top floor of this building sufficient for the accommodation of one married European police sergeant or for two unmarried sergeants, who will be placed there by the Captain Superintendent of Police, and who will exercise some supervision over the men stationed there.

The pay of the district watchmen is insufficient to attract men of a suitable class, and the district watchmen's Committee have advised that the pay be increased, and that the increased scale of pay commence from the 1st of January, 1903. During the year, there were seven resignations and eight dismissals.

CHINESE RECREATION GROUND.
The total expenditure for the year was $562.46. The revenue obtained from the lease of shops, stalls, etc. amounted to $1,570.20, compared with $1,090.52 in 1901. There is a balance of $3,668.20 to the credit of the fund.

STEAMER LOST NEAR SHANGHAI.

CREW SAVED.
The East Asiatic Trading Company kindly inform us that they are in receipt of a telegram from Shanghai informing them that the Foonoon, late Piccola, has been totally lost at Fisherman Island. The crew were saved and landed at Shanghai. The date of her loss is given as the 12th inst. The Fisherman Group is situated just to the south of the Saddle and north of the Cheung Archipelago, at the mouth of the Yangtze. The steamer, which was built in Hamburg in 1881, was of 1,175 tons gross and 875 net, and had recently been engaged on monthly charter at Shanghai.

COMMERCIAL.

WEEKLY SHARE REPORT.

Messrs Benjamin, Kelly and Potts report, under date, 15th ult.

The tightening of money both here and in the North has greatly affected our market, and several stocks, especially Banks and Indochina, show a depreciation in value.

The 'Star' Ferry Company, Limited, has advertised its Fifth Ordinary Meeting for the 20th May, till which date the transfer books are closed.

The Eighteenth Annual Ordinary Meeting of Messrs. A. S. Watson & Company, Limited, is announced for the 28th May. The transfer books will be closed from the 22nd to 30th instant, both days inclusive.

A call of $10 per share on the partly paid shares in the China and Manila Steamship Company, Limited, has been made payable on the 30th inst.

Bank—Hongkong and Shanghai Banks have declined to $670, at which rate sales have been effected. The London quotation is 264. Nationals are unchanged.

Marine Insurances.—Unions are out of favour and can probably be had at $50. China Traders have again been done at $25, and close in further request. Cantons are asked for after sale at $170.

Fire Insurances.—Hongkong Fires have been bought at $310, and more shares are wanted. China Fires have again changed hands and can still be placed at $82.

Shipping.—Hongkong, Canton and Macao Steamships have inquiries at $374. Indochina dropped to $103, at which figure shares were parted with, but the market has since firmed and there are buyers at the close at $101. China and Manillas are unaltered at $26, and Doug's Steamships remain at $31 sellers. Star Ferries (old issue) have found buyers at $27; the new shares are inquired for at $16. The net earnings for the twelve months ending 30th April, 1903, were $12,973.50 against $12,812.18 the previous year, being an increase of $161.32. After paying for repairs and placing $7,100 to credit of Insurance Fund (which the Directors have deemed expedient to open) the amount available for appropriation is $12,370.00, out of which it is proposed to pay a dividend of 12 per cent, and add $15,000 to Reserve Fund and carry forward $337.06 to credit of a New Account. Further transactions in Shell Transports a 21.6% have taken place.

Refineries.—China Sugars have been disposed of at $107, and close with sellers at $108. Luzons are to be had at $12.

Mining.—Punjoms are obtainable at $3 call of 50 cents paid on the 9th instant. Rauba has been booked at $10. Business has again been done in Jebeus at $14.

Docks, Wharves, and Godowns.—Hongkong and Whampoa Docks have been negotiated at $145, and at a large extent, at $144. There is no other Company—Sumatras are reported sold in Shanghai at Tls. 58.

Miscellaneous.—Green Island Cements remain in demand at $23. A. S. Watsons are quoted at $154. Electric (old issue) are on offer at $143, but the new shares can be placed at $7. Langkats have further depreciated and are obtainable at Tls. 355.

SHIPPING AND FREIGHT.

The freight market is still extremely slack, and the past week has witnessed another decline in shipping. Wuhu has been relieving Canton with rice and 22 can per picul is offering for ready steamers. Newchwang to Canton remains the same as at the date of last writing, viz. 25 per picul cent, but at the present time inquiries are wanting. Saigon is quoted at $14, but the rate hence has declined from $19 to 15 per picul; to 1 port Philippines, 26 per picul last.

Coal freight is as bad as ever, and remains weak. From Moji to Hongkong, $1.80 prevails although last week's tonnage was freely offered at $1.85. Singapore the rate is $2 per ton as compared with $1.25 at the date of last report. Java to Japan, 35 c. to 40 c. per picul according to size and position, is quoted.
